

Nawracające krwawienie z nosa u 3,5-letniego dziecka

Intractable epistaxis in a 3,5-year-old child

Wojciech Mikulewicz, Stanisław Drelichowski, Yorgen Abelak

Summary

Intractable epistaxis can be a serious problem in children. The authors present the case of a 3,5 year old child with a history of nasal bleeding lasting 3 years which was successfully managed by superselective embolisation of the internal maxillary artery.