

Przypadek jednostronnej gruźlicy ucha środkowego u chorej leczonej rok wcześniej z powodu rhabdomyosarcoma embryonale przeciwstronnego ucha

Unilateral tuberculosis of middle ear in patient previously treated for rhabdomyosarcoma embryonale in the contralateral middle ear - case report

A. Jankowski, A. Pajor, M. Danilewicz, T. Durko, M. Durko

Summary

Authors present a case of a female patient surgically treated for chronic otitis media (radical middle ear surgery) in which basing on postoperative pathology report a specific inflammatory process (tuberculosis) has been diagnosed. It is pointed out that in this patient there is a history of malignant neoplastic process (rhabdomyosarcoma embryonale) treated previously at the contralateral middle ear.